

EDITORIAL

Editor's Note

The 2023 International ODR Forum was held in Bengaluru, India, on March 17 and 18. The Forum featured a number of open discussions and presentations on the state of ODR internationally and on the robust state of ODR in India. The first four articles in this edition are based on presentations and conversations at the Forum. The three articles following the Bengaluru articles focus our attention on the problem of regulating artificial intelligence (AI), how to integrate technology, including AI, into health care systems, and how to integrate technology into justice systems in an innovative way.

